OPERATIONAL CONTEXT:

- The humanitarian crisis in the Central African Republic (CAR) continues to deteriorate.
- In 2023, 3.4 million people – 56 per cent of the population – need humanitarian assistance and protection, an increase of 10 per cent compared to 2022.
- This includes 2 million people who have such severe needs that their physical and mental well-being is at risk.
- While clashes between parties to the conflict have decreased in intensity to some extent, violence against civilians has not kept pace and livelihoods continue to deteriorate, including as a result of forced displacement.

WHAT WE DO:

DCA CAR, with the engagement of civil society, democratic authorities, and a responsible private sector, seeks to get a peaceful environment for all communities, access to their rights, and benefit in an equitable and inclusive manner from socio-economic resources, taking into consideration of environment protection. DCA aims to achieve this objective by acting at different levels, supporting individuals, communities, and acting at the regional and national level.

DCA offers psychosocial support services as well as protection, reinforces capabilities of local NGOs as well as local civil society organizations, and coordinates with other organizations to maximize the efficiency of its actions, always working closely with women, youth and the most marginalized.

While DCA aims to support vulnerable communities with a holistic response, we also specialised on food security and livelihood, through projects using cash transfers as a delivery mechanism and innovative and sustainable agriculture.
